WorkflowOne Expands Columbus, Ohio Plant

Growth Adds Digital, Wide-Format Printing, Bindery, Kitting and Mailing Capabilities

Dayton, Ohio, November 18, 2010— WorkflowOne, a leading provider of print management, marketing and distribution services, today announced that the company has expanded their facilities at their Columbus, Ohio plant. The expansion adds to the company's capabilities in the area of improved workflow, production, packing, inventory and shipping as well as mailing services and the consolidation of fulfillment for one of the nation's largest providers of broadband, wireless and wireline communications services and longtime WorkflowOne customer. The expansion has increased the Columbus facility by over 100,000 square feet and has been operational since September 2010.

“With the slight uptick in economical conditions, we are keeping pace by investing within our core competencies and to match client demand,” said Ernest Miller, Executive Vice President of Operations. “These areas include full-color, perfected transactional printing, kitting, fulfillment and distribution products and services.”

WorkflowOne will also be adding additional capabilities and services at their Ontario, California, Livermore, California, Atlanta, Georgia and Timonium, Maryland facilities including digital color, labels, variable data and mail processing, complementing their existing portfolio of digital solutions that include transactional printing, Print-On-Demand (POD), targeted marketing and e-services.
